In the city

All moving the Lord knows where,

Dressed in suits and tatters,
Bowties, tights, ochred sheets and earrings,
All thinking of things to come,
Africa is in a state of opportunity,
All look for easy chances.

Of self-upliftment or undeserved promotion
That often mirage further and further Making frustrate
Minds that should be content

It is a time of opportunity-

When one line makes a poet
And a little acquaintance or chance
Rockets one to the highest office

But the peasant, the pillar of the nation,
Has only to cope with prices that shift
Like the waves that rock the ship carrying yellow maize to the city.

The employed call out strikes
That only deplete the little funds
That may relieve the peasant-

The elder brother keeps the younger in hunger
At home, if there's any,
The child plays with an empty bottle,
Cries for more milk
When the cost is daily on the rise

While the incomes remain static
And the higher brackets are daily filled
By youths that will not retire
Within this century.
The child laughs gaily,
Displaying its only four teeth
That show it grows to eat,
Unaware of all that shapes her decade

You embarrass me...
Mwananchi
Why do you embarrass me with your questions
About the new Mercedes I bought
The large farm I own
The houses, the wives,
An inflated stomach!

Mwananchi
Why do you threaten me with your threats
The threats in your bloodshot eyes
Fixedly pointed at me wherever I go
Like if you are ready To release the arrow that will deflate me
Into nothingness;
Even the watchmen, the dogs, the police
Are all not enough to protect me
From your increasing shouts to protest Against my good judgement;

Mwananchi
Have you forgotten how you loved me
And gave me your vote

That I may be your man in parliament?

Now that I have the power
I will mend your confused senses
And keep you in prison
Until you see me as your leader again
And keep those bloodshot eyes away from me

I will charge like an angry lion
And scare you out of your wits
Until like a frightened dog,
You keep your head forever...

Song of Agony

I put on a clean shirt

And go to work

Which of us

Which of us will come back?

Four and twenty moons

Not seeing women

Not seeing my hand

Which of us

Which of us will die?

I put on a clean shirt

And go to work my contract

To work far away

I go beyond the mountain

Into the bush

Where the roads end

And the rivers run dry

Which of us

Which of us will come back?

Which of us

Which of us will die?

THE NECKLACE

From a distance
Fearful of inching any further,
A cold sweat trickled rivulets,
Making me shiver at noon.
Undaring to approach the form

It was over in minutes,
The necessities of execution availed,
The firestone tyre,
Petrol in blackened tin,
And ignites in numerous hands
Each participant ready and anxious,
To set the man a flame.

As the smouldering form blackened,
Smell of sizzling flesh filling in the air
Piercing the nostrils,
And choking me breathless,
I watched in wonder,
Witness to an unwritten law.

As the crowd dispersed,
The haggling and bargaining resumed,
Buying, selling and cheating,
As men in uniform arrived,
Bearing away the charred remains

WEDDING EVE

Should I
Or should I not Take the oath to love
For ever

This person I know little about?
Does she love me

Or my car
Or my future
Which I know little about?

Will she continue to love me
When the future she saw in me
Crumbles and fades into nothing
Leaving the naked me
To love without hope?

Will that smile she wears
Last through the hazards to come
When fate strikes
Across the dreams of tomorrow?

Like the clever passenger in a faulty plane,
Wear her life jacket
And jump out to save her life

Leaving me crush into the unknown?

What magic can I use
To see what lies beneath
Her angel face and well knit hair
To see her hopes and dreams
Before I take an oath
To love forever?

We are both wise chess players
She makes a move
I make a move
And we trap each other in our secret dreams
Hoping to win against each other

The inmates
Huddled together
Cold biting their bones
Teeth chattering from the chill,
The air oppressive,
The smell offensive
They sit and they reflect

The room self contained

At the corner the 'gents' invites
With the nice fragrance of ammonia,
And fresh human dung,
The fresh inmates sit thoughtfully

Vermin perform a guard of honour
Saluting him with a bite here
And a bite there
'Welcome to the world, they seem to say'
The steel lock of the door
The walls insurmountable
And the one torching tortuous bulb
Stare vacantly at him
Slowly he reflects about the consignment
That gave birth to his confinement
Locked in for conduct refinement
The reason they put him in prison

The clock ticks
But too slowly
Five years will be a long time
Doomed in the dungeon
In this hell of a cell

The Courage That My Mother Had

The courage that my mother had Went with her, and is with her still;

Rock and New England quarried;
Now granite in a granite hill.
The golden brooch my mother wore
She left behind for me to wear;
I have nothing I treasure more;
Yet, it is something I could spare.

Oh, if instead she'd left to me
The thing she took into the gravel!
The courage like a rock, which she Has no more need of, and I have.

THE PAUPER.

Pauper, pauper, craning your eyes
In all directions, in no direction!
What brutal force, malignant element,
Dared to forge your piteous fate?
Was it worth the effort, the time?

You limply lean on a leafless tree
Nursing the jiggers that shrivel your bottom
Like baby newly born to an old woman.
What crime, what treason did you commit
That you are thus condemned to human indifference?

And when you trudge on the horny pads,
Gullied like the soles of modern shoes,

Pads that even jiggers cannot conquer;
Does He admire your sense of endurance
Or turn his head away from your imprudent presence?

You sit alone on hairless goatskins,
Your ribs and bones reflecting the light
That beautiful cars reflect on you,
Squashing like between your nails.
And cleaning your nails with dry saliva.

And when He looks at the grimy coating Caking off your emaciated skin,
At the rust that uproots all your teeth
Like a pick on a stony piece of land,
Does He pat his paunch at the wonderful sight?

Pauper, pauper, crouching in beautiful verandas
Of beautiful cities and beautiful people,
Tourists and I will take your snapshots,
And your M.P. with a shining head and triple chin
Will mourn your fate in a supplementary questions at question time.

OUT-CAST

They met by accident
 He proposed the idea
 She gave her consent
 All the way to the altar

The casualty was male
 And his pigment was pale
 Unlike his alleged sire
 Who was black with ire

The recourse was legitimate
 He disclaimed responsibility
 So they had to separate
 The boy remains illegitimate

Last month, not long ago

They both took their go Coincidentally by accident
No will, no estate
Nothing to inherit

The poor boy is hardly ten
And knows no next-of-kin
He roams the streets of town
Like a wind-sown out-cast

After a brief struggle I got myself
A job
My food was meat and banana flour
A hundred cents a month and soon I had some money.

Soon afterwards I bought myself
A beautiful girl
My heart was telling time this was a fortune
So heart you were deceiving me and I believed you On a Saturday morning as I was leaving work

I was thinking I was being awaited at home
But on arrival I couldn't find my bride

Nor was she in her parents home
I ran fast to the river valley;
What I saw gave me a shock.
There was my wife conversing with her lovers.

I sat and silently wept.
I realized there is no luck in this world.
People aren't trustworthy and will never be!

The earth does not get fat. It makes an end-
Of those who wear the head plumes
We shall die on the earth. The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of those who act swiftly as heroes.
Shall we die on the earth?

Listen O earth. We shall mourn because of you.
Listen O earth. Shall we all die on the earth?
The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of The chiefs. Shall we die on earth? The earth does not get fat. It makes an end
Of the women chiefs. Shall we die on earth?

Listen o earth. We shall mourn because of you.
Listen O earth. Shall we all die on earth?

The earth does not get fat. It makes an end
Of the nobles. The earth does not get fat
It makes an end of the royal women.
Shall we die on earth?

The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of the common people. Shall we die on the earth?
The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of all the beasts
Shall we die on the earth?
Listen you who are asleep, who are left tightly closed in the land. Shall we all sink
Into the earth? Listen O
Earth the sun is setting tightly. We shall enter into the earth.
We shall not enter into the earth.

AFRICA

Africa my Africa
Africa of proud warriors in the ancestral savannah's Africa my grandmother sings of Beside her distant river
I have never seen you.

But my gaze is full of your blood.
Your black spilt over the field.
The blood of your sweat

The sweat of your toil
 The toil of slavery
 The slavery of your children.
 Africa, tell me Africa,
 Are you the back that bends.
 Lies down under the weight of humbleness?
 The trembling back stripped red.

That says yes to the whips on the road of noon?
 Solemnly a voice answers me
 "Impetuous child, that young and sturdy tree.
 That tree that grows.
 There splendidly alone among white and faded flowers.
 Is Africa, your Africa. It puts forth new shoots.
 With patience and stubbornness pouts forth news shoots.
 Slowly its fruits grow to have
 That bitter taste of freedom.

THE SMILING ORPHAN

And when she passed away,
 They came,
 Kinsmen came,
 Friends came,
 Everybody came to mourn her.

Hospitalized for five months

The ward was her world
Fellow patients her compatriots
The meager hospital supply-her-diet

When she was dying
Her son was on official duty
The state demanded his services
Her only daughter, uneducated,
Sat by her
Crying, praying waiting for an answer
From God far above
Wishing, she spoke the language
Figures in white-coats do understand
They matched, the figures did
Stiff, numb and deaf, to the cries and wishes
Of her dying mother

As she was dying
Friends and kinsmen TALKED of her
How good, how helpful: a very practical woman
None reached her: they were too busy, there was no money,
Who would look after their homes?
Was it so crucial their presence?

But when she passed away, they came,
Kinsmen came, friends hired cars to come,
Neighbours gathered to mourn her,
They ought to be there, to be there for the funeral
So they swore

The mourners shrieked out cries
As they arrived in the busy compound of the dead.
Memories of loved ones no more Stimulated tears of many.

They cried dutiful tears for the deceased
Now stretching their hands all over to help
The daughter looked at them
With dry eyes, quiet, blank

The mourners pinched each other
Shocked by the stone – heartedness
Of the be-orphaned.

She sat: watching the tears soak their garments
Or in the soil around them; wasted

That night, she went to her love,
In the freshly made emergency grass hut,
And let loose all ties of the Convectional Dress she wore Submitting to the Great Power, she whispered:

'Now
You and I must know Now.....
Tomorrow you might never understand
Unable to lick my tears
And there was light
In the darkness of the hut
While outside
The mourners cried
Louder than the Orphan

Read the following poem and respond to the questions appropriately.

'STILL I RISE'

You may write me down in history
With your bitter, twisted lies,
You may tread me in the very dirt
But still, like dust, I'll rise.
Does my sassiness upset you?
Why are you beset with gloom?
'Cause I walk like I've got oil wells'
Pumping in my living room.

Just like moons and like suns,
With the certainty of tides
Just like hopes springing high,
Still I'll rise.

Did you want to see me broken?
Bowed head and lowered eyes?
Shoulders falling down like tear drops.
Weakened by my soulful cries.

Does my haughtiness offend you?

Don't you take it awful hard
'cause I laugh like I've got gold mines
Diggin' in my own backyard.

You may shoot me with your word
You may cut me with your eyes,
You may kill me with your hatefulness,
But still, like air, I'll rise.

Out of the hurts of history's shame
I rise
Up from a past that's rooted in pain
I raise
I'm a black ocean, leaping and wide,
Welling and swelling I bear
In the tide
Leaving behind nights of terror and fear
I rise
Into a day brake that is wondrously clear
I rise
Bringing the gifts that my Ancestors gave,
I am the dream and the Hope of the slave
I rise
I rise
I rise

THE PRESS

So What is the mountain deal?
About the minister's ailing son
That makes boiling news?

How come it was not whispered?
When Tina's hospital bed was crawled with maggots
And her eyes oozed pus
Because the doctors lacked gloves?

What about Kasajja's only child Who died because the man with the key To the oxygen room was on leave?

I have seen queues
Of emaciated mothers clinging to Babies with translucent skins
Faint in line
And the lioness of a nurse
Commanding tersely
'Get up or live the line'
Didn't I hear it rumored that The man with the white mane Ushered a rape case out of court
Because the seven-year-old
Failed to testify?
Anyway, I only remembered these things
Ehen I drink
They indeed tipsyexplosions.

Their City

City in the sun without any warmth except for wanaotosheka and the tourists escaping from civilized boredom Sit under the Tree any Saturday morning and watch the new Africans, the anxious faces behind the steering wheels in hire purchase cars see them looking important in a tiny corner behind the chauffeur

We have seen them
in a nightmare, the thickset directors of several companies;
we have seen them
struggling under the weight of a heavy lunch on a Monday afternoon cutting a tape to open a building,

we have seen them
looking over their gold-rimmed glasses to read a speech
And in the small hours between one day and the next we have strolled through the deserted streets and seen strange figures under bougainvillea bushes in traffic islands figures hardly human snoring away into the cold winds of the night;

desperately dying to live.

Beggar in the three a piece.

My Jumbo
Shot its way
Across the sky
To distant lands
Across blue seas

I descended the ladder
To a waiting ribbon
Of blood-red carpet
A quick glance at my Three piece suit and the tie
That beautifully strangled my neck.

On my left hand hang My beaded knob kerry
On my right I clutched
My rusty inter- nation Begging Bowl
On my face I wore humility and need
And of course dignity.

Sir, the dearth of food
Had rendered my people thin
And hungry
Scoop us a little
You know
Just little
To keep them till next rains.

But Sir, beggars
In three piece
Are a rare sight
But your suit is beautiful Honestly.

Now my suit
Which cost me a fortune
In a Parisian Texture
Has denied me a fortune

And my countrymen, life.

White child meets black man

She caught me outside a London
Suburban shop, I, like a giraffe
And she a mouse. I tried to go But felt she stood
Lovely as light on my back

I turned with hello
And waited. Her eyes got Wider but not her lips.
Hello I smiled again and watched.

She stepped around me
Slowly, in a kind of dance,
Her wide eyes searching
Inch by inch up and down:
No fur no scales no feathers
No shell. Just a live silhouette, Wild and strange
And compulsive
Till mother came horrified

'Mummy is his tummy black?'
Mother grasped her and swung Toward the crowd. She tangled Mother's legs looking back at me
As I watched them birds were singing.

The Twist

In a little shanty town
Was on a night like this

Girls were sitting down
Around the town
Like this

Some were young
And some were brown
I even found a miss

Who was black and brown
And really did
The twist

Watch her move her wrist
And feel your belly twist
Feel the hunger thunder
When her hip bones twist

Try to hold her, keep her under While the juke box hiss
Twist the music out of hunger
On a night like this

DEATH OF MY FATHER

His sunken cheeks, his inward-looking eyes,
The sarcastic, scornful smile on his lips
The unkempt, matted, grey hair,
The hard, coarse sand-paper hands,
Spoke eloquently of the life he had lived.
But I did not mourn for him.

The hammer, the saw and the plane,
These were his tools and his damnation,
His sweat was his ointment and his perfume.
He fashioned dining tables, chairs, wardrobes,
And all the wooden loves of colonial life.
No, I did not mourn for him.

He built colonial mansions,
Huge, unwieldy, arrogant constructions;
But he squatted in a sickly mud-house,
With his children huddled stuntedly,
Under the bed-bug bed he shared with Mother.
I could not mourn for him.

I had already inherited His premature old-age look,
I had imbibed his frustration;

But his dreams of freedom and happiness
Had become my song, my love.
So, I could not mourn for him.

No, I did not shed any tears;
My father's dead life still lives in me,
He lives in my son, my father,
I am my father and my son.
I will awaken his sleepy hopes and yearnings,
But I will not mourn for him,
I will not mourn for me.

The Gourd of Friendship.

Where is the curiosity we've lost in discovery?
Where is the discovery we've lost in knowledge?
Where is the knowledge we've lost in communication?
Where is the communication we've lost in mass media?
And where is the community we've lost in all these?
Where is the message we've lost in the medium?
It is easy to go to the moon:
There, there are no people.
It is easier to count the stars:
They will not complain.
But the road to your neighbour's heart - who has surveyed it?

The formula to your brother's head - Who has devised it?
 The gourd that doesn't spill friendship - In whose garden has it ever grown?
 You never know despair Until you've lost hope;
 You never know your aspiration Until you've seen others disillusionment.
 Peace resides in the hearts of men.
 Not in conference tables and delegates signatures.
 True friendship never dies - It grows stronger the more it is used.

Theme for English B.

The instructor said,
Go home and write a page tonight.
And let that page come out of you.
Then, it will be true.

I wonder if it is that simple?

I am twenty-two, colored, born in Winston-Salem.
 I went there, then Durham, then here
 To this college on the hill above Harlem,
 I am the only colored student in my class.
 The steps from the hill lead down into Harem,
 Through a park, then I cross St Nicholas, Eighth Avenue, seventh, and I come to the Y
 The Harlem BranchY, where I take the elevator

Up to my room, sit down, and write this page:

It's no easy to know what is true for you or me At twenty-two, my age. But I guess I'm what I feel and see and hear. Harlem, I hear you:
Hear you, hear me-we two-you, talk on this page.
(I hear New York, too) me- who?
Well, I like to eat, sleep, drink, and be in love.
I like to work, read, learn and understand life.
I like a pipe for a Christmas present,
Or records- Bessie, bop, or Bach.
I guess being colored doesn't make me not like
The same things other folks like who are other races.

So will my page be colored that I write?
Being me, it will not be white.
But it will be A part of you, instructor.
You are white
Yet a part of me, as I am part of you.

That's American.
Sometimes perhaps you don't want to be part of me.
Nor do I often want to be part of you.
But we are, that's true!
As I learn from you,
I guess you learn from me- Although you are older- and white- And somewhat more free.
This is my page for English B.

Operating Room, By John Reed

Sunlight floods the shiny many-windowed place,
Coldly glinting on flawless steel under glass,
And blaring imperially on the spattered gules
Where kneeling men grunt as they swab the floor.

Startled eyes of nurses swish by noiselessly,
Orderlies with cropped heads swagger like murderers;
And three surgeons, robed and masked mysteriously,
Lounge gossiping of guts, and wish it were lunch-time.

Beyond the porcelain door, screaming mounts crescendo
Case 4001 coming out of the ether,
Born again half a man, to spend his life in bed.

THE WAR LORD

Cut, thrust, plunge

Slash, slit, stab

Starve, maim, shoot

Torch, burn, scar

The trumpets herald you with regal glory

Epaulettes glisten and medals gleam

Plunder, loot and steal

Blind, brand, rape

Curse, crush, kidnap

Smash, torture, kill

Your arrival is welcomed with carpets of steel

Ramrod backed your subjects hail you

Bind, bludgeon, bury

Garotte, impale, castrate

Order, imprison, enslave

Censor, cajole and destroy
Your scarlet cape billows as you sense fresh converts Ever more shrill their praises grow.
Barren, bleak, blackened
Shattered, sterile, stricken Torn, poisoned, defiled
Bloodied, entombed, rotting

The prize presented on some stolen silver
A maggot riddled remnant of a once serene world.

Questions

(a) Briefly explain what the poem is talking about. (3mks)

(b) What is the attitude of the persona to the warlord? Elaborate your answer.

A TAX DRIVER ON DEATH BED. (By Timothy Wangusa)

When with prophetic eye I peer in to the future
I see that I shall perish upon this road
Driving men that I do not know
This metallic monster that I now dictate,
This docile elaborate horse,
That in silence seems to simmer and strain
Shall surely revolt some tempting day.
Thus u shall die: not that I care
For any man's journey,
Nor for proprietors gain
Nor yet for the love of my own.
Not for these do I attempt the forbidden limits.
For those deft the traffic - man and the cold cell,
Risking everything for the little little more.
They shall say, I know, who pick up my bones
'Poor chap, another victim to the ruthless machine' concealing my blood under the metal.

Your Cigarette Burnt the Savannah Grass.

Come
Listen to a boiling pot torch its heart and tell me What do you hear?
the sun sent down sowers of it that burnt to cinder your eddying conscience the earth at the touch of your fingers cracked

Colour melts at your stare Orange white blurred and all are the same to you
Your cigarette burnt the savannah grass
The scorpion bit me and I cried.

THE VILLAGE WELL

By the well,
Where fresh water still quietly whisper
As when I
First accompanied Mother and filled my baby gourd,
By this well,
Where many an evening its clean water cleaned me;

This silent well
Dreaded haunt of the long haired Musambwa
Who basked
In the mid-day sun reclining on the rock
Where I now sit Welling up with many poignant memories;

This spot,
Which has rung with the purity of child laughter;
This spot,
Where eye spoke secretly to responding eye;
This spot,
Where hearts pounded madly in many a breast;

By this well,

Over-hung by leafy branches of sheltering trees
 I first noticed her
 I saw her in the cool of red, red evening
 I saw her
 As if I had not seen her a thousand times before
 By this well
 My eyes asked for love, and my heart went mad.
 I stuttered
 And murmured my first words of love
 And cupped
 With my hands, the intoxication that were her breasts

In this well,
 In the clear waters of this whispering well,
 The silent moon
 Witnessed with a smile our inviolate vows
 The kisses
 That left us weak and breathless.

It is dark.
 It is dark by the well that still whispers.
 It is darker
 It is utter darkness in the heart that bleeds
 By this well
 Where magic has evaporated but memories linger.

Of damp death
 The rotting foliage reeks,
 And the branches
 Are grotesque talons of hungry vultures,
 For she is dead
 The one I first loved by this well.

Old and New

She went up the mountain to pluck wild herbs,
She came down the mountain and met her former husband,
She knelt down and asked her former husband,
"What do you find your new wife like?"
"My new wife, although her talk is clever, Cannot charm me as my old wife could,
In beauty of face there is not much to choose,
But in usefulness they are not at all alike,
My new wife comes in from the road to meet me,
My old wife always came down from her tower.*
My new wife is clever at embroidering silk;
My old wife was good at plain sewing.
Of silk embroidery one can do an inch a day;
Of plain sewing, more than five feet.
Putting her silks by the side of your sewing,
I see that the new will not compare with the old."

THAT OTHER LIFE

(By Everett M Standa)

I have only faint memories
Memories of those days when all our joyful moment
In happiness, sorrow and dreams
Were so synchronized
That we were in spirit and flesh
One soul;

I have only faint memories
When we saw each other's image everywhere;
The friends, the relatives,
The gift of flowers, clothes and treats,
The evening walks where we praised each other,
Like little children in love;

I remember the dreams about children
The friendly neighbors and relatives
The money, the farms and cows
All were the pleasures ahead in mind
Wishing for the day of final union
When the dreams will come true

On that day final union
We promised each other pleasures and care
And everything good under the sun
As a daily reminder that you and me were one forever.

My grandmother

by Elizabeth Jennings

She kept an antique shop-or it kept her.

Among Apostle spoons and Bristol glasses,
The faded silks, the heavy furniture,
She watched her own reflection in the brass Salvers and silver bowls, as if to prove Polish was all, there was no need for love.

And I remember how I once refused
To go out with her, since I was afraid.
It was perhaps a wish not to be used
Like antique objects .Though she never said
That she was hurt, I still could feel the guilt
Of that refusal, guessing how she felt.

Later, too frail to keep a shop, she put All her best things in one long, narrow room.
The place smelt old, of things too long kept shut,
The smell of absences where shadows come
That can't be polished. There was nothing then
To give her own reflection back again.

And when she died I felt no grief at all,
Only the guilt of what I once refused.
I walked into her room among the tall
Sideboards and cupboards-things she never used
But needed: and no finger-marks were there,
Only the new dust falling through the air.

Riding Chinese Machines

There are beasts in this city they creak and they crank and groan from first dawn when their African-tongued masters wake to guide them lax and human-handed through the late rush when they're handled down and un-animated still as we sleep, towering or bowing always heavy

We pour cement through the cities towns, through the wild onwards, outwards like fingers of eager hands stretched across the earth dug in

The lions investigate and buried marvel rumbles squeezed for progress

"Sympathy"

I know what the caged bird feels, alas!
 When the sun is bright on the upland slopes;
 When the wind stirs soft through the springing grass
 And the river flows like a stream of grass;
 When the first bird sings and the first bud opes,
 And the faint perfume from its petals steals –
 I know what the caged bird feels!

I know why the caged bird beats its wing
 Till its blood is red on the cruel bars;
 For he must fly back to his perch and cling
 When he rather would be on the branch a – swing;
 And a pain still throbs in the old, old scars
 And they pulse again with a keener sting –
 I know why he beats his wing!

I know why the caged bird sings, ah me,
 When his wing is bruised and his bosom sore,
 When he beats his bars and would be free;
 It is not a song of joy or glee,
 But a prayer that he sends from his heart's deep core,
 But a plea, that upward to heaven he fings –
 I know why the caged bird sings!

The owner of yam peels his yam in the house's:
A neighbour knocks at the door
The owner of yam throws his yam in the bedroom:
The neighbour says, "I just heard A sound, 'kerekere', that is why I came,"
The owner of the yam replies,
"That was nothing, I was sharpening two knives."
The neighbour says again, "I still heard Something like 'bi' sound behind the door."
The owner of the yam says,
"I merely tried my door with a mallet."
The neighbour says again,
"What about his huge fire burning on your hearth?"
The fellow replies,
"I am merely warming water for my bath."
The neighbour persists,
"Why is your skin all white, when this is not the Harmattan season?"
The fellow is ready with his reply,
I was rolling on the floor when I heard the death of Agadapidi."

BUILDING THE NATION

Today I did my share
In building the nation
I drove a permanent Secretary
To an important urgent function
In fact a luncheon at the Vic.

The menu reflected its importance
Cold Bell beer with small talk,
Then friend chicken with niceties
Wine to fill the hollowness of the laughs
Ice-cream to cover the stereotype jokes
Coffee to keep the PS awake on return journey.

I drove the Permanent Secretary back.
He yawned many times in the back of the car
Did you have any lunch friend?
I replied looking straight ahead
And secretly smiling at his belated concern
That I had not, but was smiling!

Upon which he said with a seriousness
That amused more than annoyed me, Mwananchi, I too had none!
I attended to matters of state
Highly delicate diplomatic duties you know,
And friend, it goes against my grain,
Causes me stomach ulcers and wind.
Ah, he continued, yawning again,
The pains we suffer in building the nation!

So the PS had ulcers too!
My ulcers I think are equally painful
Only they are caused by hunger,
Not sumptuous lunches!

So two nation builders
Arrived home this evening
With terrible stomach pains
The result of building the nation -
- Different ways.

SECOND OLYMPUS

From the rostrum they declaimed
On martyrs and men of high ideals Whom they sent out
Benevolent despots to an unwilling race
Straining at the yoke
Bull dozers trampling on virgin ground
In blatant violation
They trampled down all that was strange
And filled the void
With half digested alien thoughts
They left a trail of red Whatever their feet had passed
Oh, they did themselves fine
And struttled about the place
Self proclaimed demi- gods
From a counterfeit Olympus
One day they hurled down thunder bolts
On toiling race of earthworms
They might have rained own pebbles
To pelt the brats to death
But that was beneath them
They kept up the illusion
That they were fighting foes

Killing in the name of high ideals
At the inquest they told the world
The worms were becoming pests
Moreover, they said
They did not like wriggly things
Strange prejudice for gods.

Advise to my son

The trick is, to live your days as if each one may be your last (for they go fast, and young men lose their lives in strange and unimaginable ways) but at the same time, plan long range (for they go slow : if you survive the shattered windshield and burning shell you will arrive at our approximation here below or heaven or hell)

To be specific, between the poeny and the rose plant squash and spinach, turnips and tomatoes; beauty in nectar
and nectar, in desert saves but the stomach craves stronger sustenance than the homed vine.
therefore, marry a pretty girl after seeing her mother;
speak truth to one man,
work with another;
and always, serve bread with your wine.

But son,
Always serve wine

THE BEARD By Priscovia Rwakyaka

TRK

In the pulpit he swayed and turned Leant forward, backward
To the right; to the left
His solemn voice echoed Lowly the congregation followed,
"Do you love your neighbor?"
Meekly they bow at his keen eye.
Now examining a grey head
Heaving under her sobs
His heart leapt assured-
"Her sins weigh on her!"
So with her he chats outside;
'Weep not child you are pardoned."
"But, sir, your beard conjured up The spirit of my dear goat!"

Argument with God

My child was struggling for life in hospital.
And I, worried tense and tired.
Sat in silent prayer:
In violent silence, arguing with my God.
 God I said,
Why do you allow him to suffer so?
Why him all the time?
 Why?
God was silent!
Not a word from him.
 Not a word

May be. I thought.
God is angry with me.
I'll appease my God;
Try and be good at least
Surely God would then respond.
 God, I pleaded.
Please God.
To be good is hard.
But I'll try.
 But
My child must live.
Live free from pain:
 God
You know how I love him, don't you?
Don't you? Don't you? DON'T YOU?
 But
God was dumb:
Like my child.

Then u I said to myself.
God is just.
I'll appeal for justice.
God, I called.
Though you are silent,
I am sure you hear me.

9.

The earth does not get fat. It makes an end-
Of those who wear the head plumes
We shall die on the earth. The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of those who act swiftly as heroes.
Shall we die on the earth?

Listen O earth. We shall mourn because of you.
Listen O earth. Shall we all die on the earth?
The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of The chiefs. Shall we die on earth? The earth does not get fat. It makes an end
Of the women chiefs. Shall we die on earth?

Listen o earth. We shall mourn because of you.
Listen O earth. Shall we all die on earth?
The earth does not get fat. It makes an end
Of the nobles. The earth does not get fat
It makes an end of the royal women.
Shall we die on earth?

The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of the common people. Shall we die on the earth?
The earth does not get fat. It makes an end of all the beasts
Shall we die on the earth?
Listen you who are asleep, who are left tightly closed in the land. Shall we all sink
Into the earth? Listen O
Earth the sun is setting tightly. We shall enter into the earth.
We shall not enter into the earth.

Identification – 1 mark
Illustration – 1 mark
Total marks = 2 marks
- b) The poem is about a woman who was sick and hospitalized for five months.
 - And was never visited by relatives who claimed they were busy.
 - Later, the woman dies and ironically, the relatives come to her funeral in large numbers vowing that they cannot miss the burial.

- During the funeral, her only daughter (who had stayed) with her in hospital) seems unmoved and the relatives start backbiting her saying she is hardhearted. Total marks 4

- c) The title 'The smiling orphan' is very effective in relation to what has been described in the poem.

It has been used in reference to the illiterate daughter who had stayed in hospital with the mother for five months but now is perceived as not being in mourning by the other mourners. This makes her smile at their hypocrisy. She is an orphan now that her mother is dead.

Any two points = 2 marks

- d) Loving/caring– She sat by her mother's side throughout the five months the mother was hospitalized.
Responsible– She takes care of her sick mother when other people/relatives and even her brother gave excuses of unavailability.

Identification – 1 mark

Illustration – 1 mark

No mark for illustration without identification and Vice versa.

a)

- Discrimination.

The ministers son is accorded medical attention while the less fortunate are neglected e.g. Tina and Kasajja's only child.

- Callousness / insensitivity

The medical staff lacks concern for the patient to get up or leave the line.

- Negligence

Tina's bed is infested with maggots and her eyes are oozing blood. Kasajja's only child died due to the negligence, in both cases, medical staff gives very flimsy reasons for not attending to the patients.

- Injustice / misuse of power.

The judge dismisses a rape case because seven years old victim failed to testify.

Any 3 (1 mk identification, 1mk illustration) 2×3=6mks

- b) i) Use of rhetorical questions.

- How come it was not whispered?

- So was it the mountain deal?

ii) Use of hyperbolic questions.

- Mountain deal – making a big of an ordinary situation.

- Boiling news – Hot news or breaking news.

In both cases the persona is criticizing the media. It gives exaggerated attention to the minister's son's minor illness at the expense of the deserving cases.

iii) Metaphor

- Lioness of a nurse

iv) Satire

The last stanza underscores the persona treats it as a tipsy talk of a drunk yet poet is ridiculing the injustice meted out to the less fortunate.

31. Famine

(a) The poem is about an encounter between two neighbours during famine. One of them has food that he stubbornly refuses to share with his hungry 'brother'.

(b) The neighbour hopes that by being persistent, the owner of the yam will relent and give him some. Although the owner denies everything, the neighbour shows him he knows that he (the owner) is refusing to own up the truth when it is so obvious.

The neighbour also hopes to prick his "friend's" conscience. He hopes that guilt will force the owner of the yam to share the yam.

(c) The owner of the yam is:-

(i) Mean / selfish - inspite of the efforts the neighbour makes, he refuses to share his food.

(ii) Innovative / schemer / creative - He formulates quick answers to counteract what his neighbour says.

(d) The ideophones words are "kerekere" and "bi".

(e) The neighbour is very observant because he notices things like fire and associate it with the meal the owner wants to prepare. He also notices the owner's "skin" is "all white" of course the whiteness is from the yam peelings. The owner of the yam refutes everything. But the owner is not fooled.

(f) Bitter, dismissive - There cannot be peace ...

(g) The statement "Peace be with you" is ironic because the neighbour is probably being sarcastic. He cannot be wishing somebody who has denied him food peace. He has made the owner of the yam guilty. A person with a guilty conscience is unlikely to have peace.

(h) We learn that we should share what we have with the needy. When we don't, we cannot have peace with ourselves or others.
